RENT RISE BLOW FOR CHARITIES

CHARITIES, voluntary groups and social clubs across Harlow will be hit with massive rent rises next April.

Confidential papers leaked to the Star show Harlow Council plans to scrap peppercorn rents and charge the full market value for groups which use its community buildings.

The proposals – which could raise an extra £177,013 a year – were approved at a behind-closed-doors meeting of the council's policy and resources committee in September.

The changes will affect a number of the town's welfare organisations including Rainbow Services, Harlow

Homeless Project, Cornerstone and Young Concern, while Great Parndon Community Association, Colt Hatch Social Club and Griffin Day Nursery are just three of more than 20 other groups also likely to be hit.

The GPCA would have to find an extra £42,500 a year to cover rent increases on Sumners Recreation Centre, Abercrombie Playbarn and common rooms at Maunds Hatch, Coppice Hatch, Pollard Hatch and Sherards Hatch.

The council said this week that changes to rent levels

Charities and voluntary groups facing rents hike

are expected by organisations as part of regular rent reviews and that for many organisations it is part of a regular process that has been ongoing for years.

But Karen Bartlett, general manager of the GPCA, told the Star the charges could destroy the organisation. "If the council is going to charge us that kind of money, then we will seriously have to consider whether we can afford to continue offering our services, which would be a tremendous shame because they are currently used by thousands of residents."

"I'm absolutely stunned that the local authority would even consider doing something like this. Who's going to pick up the pieces after some of these organisations are forced to close?"

Rainbow Services chairwoman

Jackie Sully also expressed her shock at the plans. "If this is true then I'm profoundly disappointed that I had to find out about these rent hikes from the Star," she said.

"I sincerely hope we can look forward to some sensible discussion – the emphasis being on sensible – about the future of the excellent social and community services currently on offer in the town."

Labour group leader Mark Wilkinson, who was present at the policy and resources committee meeting at which the plans were voted through, said he was shocked at what he called the Conservative administration's ruthless streak.

"These organisations have done so much for the town and the way in which the Tories have treated them is shameful," he said.

"They may well claim that they are just trying to claw back as much money as possible to protect the taxpayer, but at what cost? This will see many of the community services and social clubs the town prides itself on go to the wall."

Liberal Democrat group leader Chris Millington added: "I can understand why the council would seek to increase rents for any commercial, profitable organisations currently being charged peppercorn rates, but if these plans mean that volunteer and charitable groups are compromised then it's something we cannot and will not support."

Simon Carter, chairman of the council's policy and resources committee, said: "In some cases what we are trying to do is formalise uncertain and vague occupation arrangements from decades ago that this administration inherited. This will include negotiating, where appropriate, clarification of responsibilities for the care and maintenance of the building.

"We are also taking the opportunity of modernising the accounting of our commercial portfolio to show the returns we are making on our assets and to identify the full extent of our support to the community."

"As we make clear in the open part of the agenda, where community groups pay full commercial rents to the council they will be able to apply for a grant from the council to support the expenditure."

He added: "I am sure whoever leaked this information would not like details of their rent of mortgage arrangements to be made public, and I would hope they would give the same respect to our commercial and community tenants."

Teen yob's identity protected by court

By COURT REPORTER
star@hertssexnews.co.uk

EXTRA resources will be pumped into policing an anti-social behaviour order after magistrates ruled that a youth who terrorised a Harlow shopping centre cannot be identified.

The 16-year-old yob was given an ASBO on Friday after a year-long campaign of harassment and intimidation in The Stow and Great Plumtree areas of the town.

Harlow Court was told the youth was the ringleader of a gang calling themselves the Harlow Town Hooligans, who used loud foul and abusive language to shopkeepers and police officers, kicked footballs against shop windows and openly smoked cannabis.

The youth was also serving a referral order sentence for taking a vehicle without the owner's consent and possession of an offensive weapon – a metal pole – in a public place.

Under the conditions of the ASBO, he is forbidden from entering an area including The Stow, Great Plumtree, Dovehouse Croft and Orchard Croft for two years. He is also banned from using or encouraging others to use foul, abusive, threatening or intimidating language.

Last month another member of the gang – Rory Britz (17) of Tany's Dell, Harlow – was handed an ASBO with the same conditions. The pair are not allowed to keep each other's company in public.

At Friday's hearing magistrates refused an application by the Star, supported by Essex police, to lift an order banning publication if his name. It means the public cannot be warned of his behaviour, despite the fact an ASBO relies on public vigilance to help police it.

Magistrate Jenny Spalding said the order would not be lifted because of the effect it would have on his younger sister who is at school and because an interim ASBO had been effective without naming him.

Afterwards, neighbourhood officer Sergeant Lewis Basford said the police would still pursue the lifting of the ban.

"Because of this there will be extra police patrols in The Stow area ensuring that he abides by the conditions of the order," he said. "The only way we could get the ASBO was through the reporting by local residents over three or four months."

"They identified the main culprits responsible for anti-social behaviour in the area."

Youth trust needs your vote

CAMARAS were rolling in Harlow on Tuesday as a youth counselling charity put together its bid for Lottery cash.

Young Concern Trust, based at Sewell House in The Hides, is hoping to get £50,000 to refurbish and extend its current facilities by taking part in TV show

The People's Millions.

More than 45 youngsters from Passmore and Burnt Mill schools turned out to back the bid while the ITV Anglia film crew were in town.

Charity director Robert Locke and Passmore headteacher Vic Goddard spoke in front of cameras in support of the bid.

The group hopes that with the cash they will be able to double the numbers of children with access to their counselling and therapeutic group.

Youth Concern Trust's bid will be screened next Wednesday at 6pm.

Viewers will be invited to vote for the project they want the cash to go to.

A charity spokesman said: "The people of Harlow will make or break our bid."

"People are allowed to make a maximum of 10 telephone votes each, so if everyone in Harlow votes 10 times then that is a lot of votes!"

Posties' special delivery for Maisie

THE bitterly cold winter weather did not stop one Harlow resident from walking his socks off to raise money for a special little girl.

Postman Peter Lucia (46) persuaded 60 of his work colleagues to put on their walking boots for a trek around the Town Park which raised a staggering £1,600 for three-year-old Maisie Weir, pictured right.

The group set off from the sorting office in the town centre and followed a route around the park before finishing back at the Post Office.

Mr Lucia, of Parsonage Leys, said: "My wife and I were discussing the idea of a sponsored walk to organise at the Post Office.

"As my wife is a teacher at Maisie's school, we both thought it would be a great idea to help raise money for her."

Mr Lucia added: "The money will go towards helping travel expenses for Maisie to travel to and from Addenbrookes Hospital and hopefully - if she gets better - it will pay for a holiday to allow all her family to go away.

"It was a really nice day; we just wanted to show our support for Maisie's family.

"We are thinking that we will make this an annual thing at the post office every year to help raise money and support different people each year."

Court spares dog that bit police horses

By COURT REPORTER
star@hertsessexnews.co.uk

A DOG that attacked two police horses on patrol in Harlow town centre will not be destroyed after magistrates ordered the animal to be muzzled.

The Staffordshire Bull Terrier had been under the control of Louise Reilly (43), the mother of the animal's owner, on the day it ran amok in North Gate last month.

She was ordered to pay court costs of £85.

Reilly, of Purford Green, Harlow, was originally charged under the Dangerous Dogs Act of being out of control of a dangerous dog in a public place but this was subsequently withdrawn by the prosecution.

However, she admitted the dog had been dangerous and out of control during the incident on October 28, as a result of which both horses required veterinary treatment while their riders were taken to hospital.

Woman charged after dog attack on police horses

FLASHBACK: Star, November 5

Ordering that the dog should be muzzled, chairman of the bench Richard Morgan warned of the danger of dogs biting children and also expressed concern over the limited powers the court had in such cases.

"We're very sorry this happened and must prevent it happening again," he said. "If children had been present they could have been bitten. We're very concerned but our powers are limited."

Prosecutor Anthea Sorares told the court the dog began nipping at the horses' legs, causing them to move from side to side.

Despite being told to quieten down by Reilly, the dog persisted in biting one of the horses, causing the animal to go into a "mad panic".

The attack resulted in a main artery being cut and the horse requiring emergency roadside surgery. It needed 40 stitches and may never return to duty.

Stuart Cooper, representing Reilly, told the court the dog was owned by her daughter Sarah. He said it was a puppy and was probably scared by the horses after seeing them for the first time.

Reilly had gone for a drink with an old friend at a pub in the town centre and had kept the dog tethered until he became restless.

She then put him back on the lead to take him to her car but took him off again before getting inside vehicle. It was at this point the police horses came around the corner and the dog attacked them.

Mr Cooper said it had been Reilly's own actions which finally resulted in the police tracking her down after she made a telephone call to ask how the horses and officers were.

When police visited Reilly's home, they found the dog cowering and showing no signs of aggression.

Neighbours pay the penalty for noise nuisance

COUNCIL chiefs in Harlow have issued a warning to noisy neighbours after two people were made to pay for their anti-social behaviour.

One woman was convicted in her absence of breaching the Environmental Protection Act and fined £350 with £603 costs after the council received numerous complaints about loud music, screaming and shouting from her property.

Despite visits by environmental health officers, the problems continued over several months and resulted in court action.

The second woman was also convicted in her absence and fined £1,750 for five breaches of the Act. She was ordered to pay £1,199 costs.

The court was told she had caused a nuisance to her neighbours over several months by playing loud music and had refused to comply with council requests to stop.

Tony Hall, chairman of the council's environment and community committee, said: "Noisy neighbours can make life a misery and these two people have inflicted stress on their victims over a period of time.

"We don't take this type of action lightly but we are determined that people can enjoy their own homes in peace without the inconsiderate behaviour of others."

Leisure centre opening hit by safety concerns

THERE was widespread disappointment yesterday (Wednesday) when it was announced that the opening of Harlow's long-awaited new sports and leisure facility would be delayed by three months.

The decision to put back the opening until February was taken because of safety concerns over fire dampers installed in the new Leisurezone building in Velizy Avenue.

The problem was identified in recent building inspections by consultants acting for the Gateway Partnership.

The Partnership said further investigation has confirmed that the installation and operation of the dampers are not in accordance with the design specification, resulting in the need for extensive remedial work.

It had been hoped the handover of the complex would take place before Christmas, enabling it to be opened to the public around four weeks later.

The estimated date is now Friday, February 26.

A spokesman for the Partnership said: "The delay is disappointing given assurances by the contractor that the building was on track".

But he added the Partnership was determined that quality and safety are not compromised, and that the town has a high-quality sporting and

By DAN PHILLIPS
daniel.phillips@hertsexnews.co.uk

leisure facility of which it can be proud of for many years to come.

A joint statement released yesterday afternoon by Harlow Council's Conservative, Labour and Liberal Democrat leaders said: "As politicians we have all supported the Gateway Scheme and the provision of the new Leisurezone centre which will be a fantastic facility for Harlow.

"We are very disappointed that this problem has arisen and at the delay that this will cause for the opening of the centre.

"Whilst we support the need to ensure that everything is installed properly to protect future users from any potential fire hazard we have ensured that our disappointment has been registered with the builder of the centre."

Harlow MP Bill Rammell said: "I have long argued and campaigned for the new Leisurezone and so I am very disappointed at this further delay to the opening.

"I want this problem put right as quickly as possible. As a partnership we need to identify what brought about the delay and put it right."

DELAYED: The opening of Harlow's new Leisurezone has now been put back to next year

Student acquitted of indecent act in train

A COLLEGE student accused of pleasuring himself in front of a young woman on a train to Harlow has been cleared of outraging public decency.

Piotr Nazarski (22) was found not guilty on the direction of the judge at Chelmsford Crown Court on Monday.

He was also found not guilty of exposing himself during the journey between Broxbourne and Harlow on October 15 last year.

During the trial the woman said Nazarski, of The Knowle, Hoddesdon, had pushed his underwear and trousers down his thighs and was masturbating.

She told the court he did not say anything but later was making noises "as someone would make when pleasuring themselves in that way."

She told a colleague and later reported the incident to police. The following day she caught the same train the next day and spotted Nazarski getting off at Harlow.

Gareth Hughes, prosecuting, said: "She had the presence of mind to take his photo on her mobile phone, had the photo copied and given to police."

However, Nazarski told jurors he was reading a newspaper and because the train had been delayed he was worried about being late for college.

He told the court: "My leg was twitching."

Sporting glory at awards ceremony

SPORTS stars from Harlow have been honoured as some of the county's finest at a prestigious awards ceremony.

The 2009 Essex Sports Awards saw Dilwyn Charles awarded with the Services to Sport Award for his dedication to tennis. Dilwyn coached tennis for 53 years until recently when he had to give up due to ill health.

Footballer JJ O'Leary scooped the Young Community Volunteer Award in recognition of his hard work on the Kickz project where he is a mentor and coach to many budding soccer stars.

And the Booth Academy of Table Tennis, based in Harlow, was awarded the Community Club of the Year title for its work both reaching out to the local community and also in creating a regional centre of excellence for the sport.

Narrowly missing out on awards were wheelchair athlete Richard Chiassaro (Paralympic Hopeful) judo instructor Mick Ellis (Coach of the Year) and Passmores School (School of the Year).

Other Harlow athletes and organisations shortlisted for honours but narrowly missing out were netball star Joanne Harten, marksman James Huckle and athlete Marcus Hunt.

The Essex Sports Awards celebrate and recognise the very best in sport within the county and the people who participate, support its provision and invest personally in its on-going development.

More than 200 guests, including dignitaries, athletes and coaches, attended the event held in Chelmsford.

Angela Littlewood, director of hosts sportsex which is the official body for sport in Essex as recognised by Sport England and the Department for Culture, Media and Sport, said afterwards: "I'd like to offer my congratulations to Dilwyn, JJ and Booth Academy of Table Tennis on winning their awards.

"It has been a fantastic year for sport in Essex with real progress being made and this is due to efforts of all those who have been involved in these awards."

Restaurant's cash gift to help the town's homeless

HARLOW curry house Spice Master has raised £712 for a charity working to help the homeless in the town.

Streets2Homes were the grateful recipients of the cash which was raised at a special charity night held at the Indian hot house in Commons Road.

Amanda Copeman, the charity's assistant manager, said: "It is a fantastic amount of money and will be put to good use.

"We're very grateful for the donation and for the support given to us and other charities by the restaurant."

Streets2Homes supplies hot meals, support and education for homeless people.

TV presenter Clare opens new cancer support centre

BBC Sport presenter Clare Balding opened a new support centre for cancer sufferers at the Rivers Hospital in High Wych.

The facility, run by the Helen Rollason Cancer Charity, aims to provide emotional support for people with the disease and their families.

Ms Balding, the charity's vice patron, said: "This new centre is a haven for cancer patients, supporting them with a range of services, which the charity hopes to extend in the future."

Charity manager Nicola Douglas said: "We are very excited about the launch of this new centre and hope people living with cancer in Herts and west Essex will benefit greatly."

Charity's marathon plea

HARLOW performing arts charity Razed Roof is appealing to runners thinking of tackling the London Marathon to consider raising cash for its work.

Razed Roof is a group based at Harlow Playhouse for people both with and without disabilities and learning difficulties. Up to 40 adults and children work together for six hours every Thursday with the support of an experienced team of staff.

If you would like to run the marathon for Razed Roof, call Barbara on 07910452761.

Offering advice on MS

AN event offering information for anyone recently diagnosed with multiple sclerosis is being organised by the local branch of the MS Society.

Presentations will be made by the MS National Centre research department and the local MS nurse.

The event, which is also open to family, friends and carers, takes place next Thursday (November 26) at the Latton Bush Centre in Southern Way, Harlow, starting at 7pm.

Rates hike 'could threaten town's economic future'

GOVERNMENT plans to raise business rates next year have been branded "inexplicable" by the Conservative politician hoping to become Harlow's next MP

Prospective Parliamentary candidate Robert Halfon claimed the proposals could leave small businesses facing hefty rate hikes of more than £2,000 per year.

"In the midst of the most prolonged recession since records began, it is inexplicable why the Government has decided to heap more pressure on local businesses," he said.

The proposals have sparked concerns that Harlow firms could be forced to cut investment and jobs in order to cope with the increases, and Mr Halfon claimed the plan was another example of the Government's failed economic legacy.

"I know from speaking to many local businessmen that they are struggling in the current climate," he added. "A successful, thriving business sector is essential to the Harlow constituency's economic future and an increase in business rates risks jeopardising this."

The changes are set to be introduced in

By SARAH HUNT
star@hertsessexnews.co.uk

April 2010 but do not take into account the loss of revenues firms have faced during the recession because the increases calculate business rates according to criteria drawn up in April 2008.

But Harlow MP Bill Rammell dismissed Mr Halfon's claims and said he was wrong to suggest rates for all small firms in Harlow would rise.

"The Government is simply undertaking a regular revaluation of properties, done every five years, which is necessary as relative property values which form the basis of the rates change over time," said Mr Rammell.

"More businesses will actually see overall decreases in rate bills than those seeing rises."

"This Government knows only too well the need to support small businesses and that's why we introduced the Small Business Rates Relief in 2005."

Mr Rammell said he had recently responded to concerns from the Federation of Small Businesses that local take-up of rate relief was too low and had called on Harlow Council to advertise the scheme more widely.

Council signs accord

SMALL firms are set to benefit after Harlow Council signed up to a new business accord.

Council leader Andrew Johnson put pen to paper on Tuesday when he formally signed the Essex Federation of Small Businesses' Engagement Accord.

The authority has now pledged to adhere to 14 key principles when dealing with local firms, ranging from improved notice periods for meetings to making sure appropriate, jargon-free language is used in consultation documents for the business audience.

Storm leaves trail of damage

GALE force winds and heavy rain took their toll in and around Harlow as one of the fiercest storms of the year lashed the town on Saturday.

At least five trees were felled by the strong winds, with residents of Foldcroft discovering three strewn across their paths and two more falling in Hamlet Hill and Rye Hill Road.

The photograph above was taken in Harlow Town Park by Star reader Andy Lee.

Essex Police received a total of 144 weather-related emergency calls across the county - two-thirds of them from people reporting fallen trees.

Other calls concerned incidents of flooding, road accidents, fallen telephone lines and malfunctioning alarms.

One police officer on patrol in Ongar had a lucky escape when a gust of wind blew a tree across the bonnet of her car. She escaped with minor injuries.

Town centre lights up

THOUSANDS of shoppers braved the weekend storms to enjoy a day of festive fun in Harlow town centre as the stars of this year's Playhouse pantomime switched on the town's Christmas lights.

Fireworks, funfair rides and Father Christmas's dazzling glo-stick parade made sure it was a day to remember for families, while business was booming for shops, cafes and restaurants which were kept busy during the colourful celebrations.

The crowds were entertained by circus performers and the Ten 17 FM roadshow crew, while carol singers added a sprinkle of Christmas magic to the day.

The event, organised by the Town Centre Development Team with support from The Harvey Centre, Harlow Council and local businesses, proved to be an even bigger success than last year's Christmas cracker.

Town centre development manager Richard Dennerly told the Star: "This year's event was even more spectacular than last time, with more than 5,000 people enjoying the entertainment.

"Some of the circus performers were just incredible, while the carollers and Christmas glo-stick parade gave the whole event a wonderful festive feel."

Harlow Council chairman Edna Stevens added: "The turnout was magnificent and the fireworks truly spectacular. It was a pleasure to see so many families joining in throughout the day, enjoying the music and entertainment and getting involved in the glo-stick parade.

"I'd like to extend a big thank you to the Town Centre Partnership, town centre traders and other organisations and businesses who helped make possible this event, which attracted thousands of extra people into the town centre."

Kirsty is Red Arrows' first lady of the sky

THE world-famous Red Arrows aerobatic display team has unveiled its first-ever female pilot.

Twenty years after the RAF first allowed women to train as pilots, Flight Lieutenant Kirsty Moore (31), pictured above right, has made history by joining the team and will fly with them from 2010 until 2012.

The RAF said that, until recently, no female fast-jet pilot had advanced far enough in their flying career to join the crack display team which is based at RAF Scampton in Lincolnshire.

Kirsty has undergone a tough training regime since she met up with the prestigious outfit in September, having previously flown on missions for the RAF in Iraq.

The only other new member of the team is Flight Lieutenant Ben Plank (30), who is based at Cottesmore in Leicestershire. Around 30 fast-jet pilots apply to join the Red Arrows every year but only the very best are successful.

Flight Lieutenant Moore was based with a Tornado squadron at RAF Marham in Norfolk before she made her successful application.

Santa Run is fun for all the family

NEXT month's Santa Run in aid of St Clare Hospice will be fun for all the family – even those who can't run!

"We don't want people to feel they can't take part because we've called it a run" said Tracy Meale, events fundraiser for St Clare. "It's all about taking part to help raise funds for the hospice and having a really fun festive time! You can walk, jog or push the pushchair around the course."

More than 100 people have already signed up to take part in the 4km fun run around Harlow Town Park on Sunday, December 6 but more are needed to ensure a really great atmosphere on the day.

The first 500 adults who sign up will receive a free Santa suit while free Santa hats will be given to the first 100 children.

Among those taking part will be team from the Star, which is supporting the event. Editor Ken Morley said: "What better way to prepare for the excesses of Christmas than by spending a couple of hours in the company of hundreds of other people raising money for such a worthy cause while enjoying the sights and sounds of the Town Park."

ON THE RUN: Star acting news editor Chris Moss, front, and reporter Dan Phillips, right, with Giles Wright and Tracey Meale from St Clare Hospice

"The more people who take part, the merrier it will be."

The aim is to raise £23,000 which will fund the in-patient unit – which can care for up to eight patients at any time and also provide much needed support to their friends and families – for a whole week.

Giles Wright, communications manager for St Clare, said: "We can only continue to provide specialist care and assist families in this way through the generosity and support of the community we care for.

"One way in which you can support us and our patients is by taking part in our first-ever Santa Run."

The event starts from the Town Park Showground at 11am. To register, simply log on to www.stclarehospice.org.uk or call (01279) 773750 to receive a registration pack.

Do it today and join hundreds of others making this Christmas a little more special.

Daily check that could prevent a stroke

ESSEX residents are being urged to carry out a simple self-assessment to determine whether they could be at risk from a potentially lethal heart complaint.

The British Heart Foundation is advising people to check their pulse daily for irregularities which could point to a condition known as Atrial Fibrillation, an abnormal heart rhythm most common in the over 55 age group.

AF can lead to the formation of blood clots and is thought to contribute to 16,000 strokes in the UK each year. As many as 800,000 people could be suffering from the complaint.

However, once the condition is diagnosed it can be managed using blood-thinning medication such as warfarin.

Debbie Servant, the British Heart Foundation's arrhythmia nurse specialist at the Essex Cardiothoracic Centre, said: "Checking your pulse is so simple; you really don't need to be a doctor or a nurse.

"Taking one minute today to check your pulse could make all the difference. Don't leave it to chance."

For more information and advice about how to take your pulse, visit the Foundation's website at www.bhf.org.uk/pulse or call (0300) 333 2 333.

Toy rifle lands man (25) with a jail sentence

By COURT REPORTER
star@hertsessexnews.co.uk

A MAN who pointed an imitation rifle at another man in a "moment of madness" has been jailed for eight months.

Frank Bannon (25) had been playing with the toy gun at a friend's home at Occasio House in Harlow town centre when he answered a late-night knock at the front door, Chelmsford Crown Court heard on Monday.

Standing there were Tyrone King and his girlfriend, who had gone to the flat to get back a bike Bannon had ridden off on earlier.

Anil Patani, prosecuting, told the court: "Bannon was holding the long barrelled imitation firearm at hip height. As the door opened he uttered the words 'Don't start trouble. I will show you who is boss'."

Mr King's girlfriend ran off and Bannon then came out without the firearm and asked to shake hands, the court heard.

However, the incident was reported to police who responded by sending officers, including a firearms unit, to the scene.

Bannon, of Millwards, Harlow, pleaded guilty to possessing an imitation firearm with intent to cause fear of violence.

James Howard, representing Bannon, said in mitigation it was a toy gun designed to shoot small targets in a lounge and Bannon was playing with it when there was the knock on the door.

He said Bannon had not threatened to shoot anyone or claimed that it was a real gun.

Mr Howard described it as "a moment of madness" and said when Bannon saw the reaction he immediately put it down and shook hands with Mr King to apologise.

Sentencing Bannon to eight months in prison, Recorder Stephen Spence told him: "Whether real or imitation, anything which looks like a gun is going to instil fear in anybody it's pointed at.

"It was a toy gun but at night, on a doorstep, people who look at that would not know that. It was not a small handgun but a rifle."

Horses healthy say owners angered by strangles scare

AT RISK: Cases of deadly equine respiratory disease strangles has broken out on Harlow Common

Horses at risk of strangles

FLASHBACK: Last week's Star report

TRAVELLERS have denied claims that a deadly respiratory disease may have broken out among horses kept on Harlow Common.

Last week horse owner Ayla Davison said as apparent outbreak of strangles may have originated from gypsy horses tethered on the land.

But travellers licensed to keep horses on the common refuted the suggestion they were to blame, and said they were not aware of any confirmed cases of the disease among their animals.

One owner, who did not want to be named, said: "This lady has obviously got her facts wrong. There has not been an outbreak of strangles on Harlow Common and none of our horses have been affected by it.

"This has caused unnecessary panic among those who keep their horses on the common and I'm at a complete loss to understand where the rumours originated from.

"I just want to reassure people visiting the area and other horse owners that there is absolutely nothing wrong with the horses kept on the common. They are perfectly healthy."

Strangles starts with abscesses in the throat and causes flu-like symptoms, ultimately preventing an infected horse from breathing.

Police join campaign to raise awareness of domestic abuse

POLICE officers will be in the Harvey Centre from 10am-4pm on Wednesday to offer advice on the subject of domestic abuse.

The initiative is part of Domestic Violence Awareness Week which aims to help people ahead of the Christmas period.

Sergeant Shirley Cole, domestic abuse and hate crime officer, said: "Raised tensions leading to violence and abuse can occur within families spending long periods of time in close proximity during this time of year, in particular over the festive period."

FURY OVER 'BIN PARTY'

By DAN PHILLIPS
dan.phillips@hertsessexnews.co.uk

BOSSES at Harlow Council are planning a "wheelie good party" to celebrate its new refuse collection scheme despite widespread anger over the new bins.

"The Tories on Harlow Council to spend Harlow taxpayers' money on celebrating the wheelie bin is a disgrace," said Labour leader Councillor Mark Withers.

"This is the biggest waste in Harlow the year and it is time that those in Harlow were just not built for wheelie bins."

"If houses are built with smaller front gardens and lead directly onto the street, it is a waste of space and a danger to the community."

also said she would not attend the event. "I was absolutely staggered when I received an invitation to a party celebrating the introduction of wheelie bins to the town," she said.

But Cllr Tony Hall, chairman of the council and community relations, defended the decision, saying: "A lot of councillors and officers visited very busy homes, including porphyry buildings, to make sure that the bin was not a problem."

FRONT PAGE NEWS: Flashback to the story in last week's Star

Tories' two-fingered salute

SIR, You would expect that after the public furore over the expenses of our MPs, people elected to office and bureaucrats who are paid with public taxes would be careful how they spent our money.

But it appears that in Harlow the Tory party leadership and the officers concerned with wheelie bins are sticking up two fingers to the electorate and saying that, though a great majority of the were against wheelie bins, they still put them in and now they are going to spend our money to have a real good party and gloat on what they have done.

As well as this, it appears that the council has inserted a clause in their recycling policy that says if you have no where to put your bins, dig up your front garden.

The word disgusting comes to mind, but surely there must be a better word to describe these people who, only a short while ago, were claiming that Harlow was so short of money that they had to close the Leah Manning

Centre and cut the Welfare Rights and Advice Service to such a level that they just managing to survive yet can find a couple of thousand pounds to spend on a party. The other thing that disgusts me is that on the vote on digging up our gardens, the Labour group abstained.

So, good people of Harlow, remember that next May we can vote against the parties that take us for granted and show them that democracy still flourishes in our town.

Les Cohen Rectory Wood, Harlow

It's an outrage

SIR, The wheelie bin party planned for later this month is an outrage and shows the contempt they have for taxpayers.

They seem to have forgotten the recession we are suffering.

Councillor Tony Hall claims many council staff have worked long hours but no doubt they got a nice

Fears over global warming are not supported by scientific fact

SIR, I have been reading the Star letters page with interest regarding climate change and would like to challenge anyone that has seen or has any factual scientific evidence that climate change is caused by the rise of greenhouse gases such as CO₂ and human activity or any other man induced activities to produce it.

This should not include the often referenced scientific opinion or peer to peer review evidence. Here are some facts:

- Carbon dioxide is not a pollutant.
- The Earth's greenhouse gas envelope contributed by man is barely one tenth of one per cent of the total.
- 900,000 years of ice core temperature records and carbon dioxide content records show that CO₂ increases follow rather than lead increases in Earth temperature.

● While temperatures have fluctuated over the past 5,000 years, today's Earth temperature is below the average for the past 5,000 years.

● A recent study of 246 glaciers around the world between 1946 and 1995 indicated a balance between those that are losing ice, gaining ice and remaining in equilibrium. There is no global trend in any direction.

● No computer model ever used to compute climate change has been able to calculate our recent past Earth temperature, though all measured data inputs were known and available.

Global warming is a major industry today; the USA alone spends $6bn a year. This finances jobs, grants, conferences, international travel and academic journals.

It not only keeps a huge army of people in comfortable employment, but also fills them with self-righteousness and moral superiority, regardless of the fact that real science does not support it.

So-called environmental experts have managed to gain undue influence by exploiting the gullibility of many ordinary and scientifically illiterate people who are only too willing to believe that the planet needs saving from man's excesses.

By focusing our priorities on future generations, we focus less on improving the lives of people who are alive today. Perhaps it is a lot easier worrying about future generations than trying to fix present day problems.

D. Vigar

bit of overtime from that.

These civil servants are paid to serve the community, not themselves like MPs seem to have done.

The money for this party is ours and should be put to other uses such as road repairs, cleaning the streets, better lighting and, lest we forget, the elderly in need.

Equally, there is more that needs to be done for the disabled residents of our town.

S. Sadler
Mallows Green, Harlow

Bins backlash

SIR, Well done to Harlow's Conservative councillors. I must say they deserve a party for finally sticking two fingers up to the people who pay their wages.

No doubt we can expect another party for the introduction of parking charges, causing inconvenience to the people they are supposed to serve. No doubt they will expect the local shops they close to be thankful for this.

The introduction of wheelie bins have made our conservation areas look like slums, or don't they know what a conservation area looks like?

Earlier this year I wrote a letter to the Star in which I pointed out the fire service said it was very dangerous to place these bins close to people's homes as they are liable to be set on fire by vandals, thus endangering lives. Now we see one or more bins placed against doors and windows and underneath porches, but I suppose the Tories know more about safety than the fire brigade.

What a shower we are blessed with as our first Conservative council for Harlow. They can rest assured they will not get our votes next time.

R.A. Smith
Great Plumtree, Harlow

No reward

SIR, So Harlow Council is going to hold a party for the success of the wheelie bins.

Councillor Tony Hall has stated the council is starting to receive positive feedback on the new system despite the majority of residents not having yet received the bins. At every meeting I have attended all residents are fervently against having these bins in the town.

Councillor Hall has stated that whatever residents views are, staff and contractors have worked hard and shown dedication with the implementation of the new scheme. I think this sums it up by saying whatever the residents views are, the council will bulldoze schemes through.

I thought that council staff were paid a very good salary to work hard with fringe benefits such as long holidays, paid sickness schemes and an excellent pension scheme. So why do we have to reward them for doing their jobs when the rest of the country have to take pay cuts to protect their jobs.

This has once again shown the ruling party's disregard of the residents of Harlow by turning Harlow into a giant rubbish tip and an eyesore.

Brian Weavers
address supplied - Editor

Waste of tax

SIR, Aren't Labour hypocrites? I agree that it is obscene that the Tory council would waste our hard-earned council tax on celebrating the introduction of wheelie bins, but let it not be forgotten that the former Labour/Liberal Democrat administration was the one that started the ball rolling with the wheelie bin scheme.

To their undying shame the Tories, instead of scrapping the idea, grasped it with both hands wasting even more of our taxes.

J. Wilson
Hornbeams, Harlow

Road grief

SIR, Can anyone tell us if Bob the Builder with Noddy and Bigears are doing the work on the stretch of A414 from Southern way to the M11? As if the roads in Harlow are not bad enough we have now got this work for 15 months, just to dual this road for less than half a mile.

This is a complete joke. On the M25 they have widened the motorway from junctions 16-18 by one lane in six months and this stretch is over 12 miles long.

And what a stupid time of year to start this. Can someone at least explain why this pain has to go on for so long?

Brian Sanderson
Kingsmead Hill, Roydon

Well done

SIR, Bravo to the cast and crew from Burnt Mill Performing Arts College for their stunning production at Harlow Playhouse last week.

This was not your average high school production. The acting was absolutely outstanding and the sets, dance routines and live music were superbly complimented by a backdrop of carefully choreographed pictures of social events and prominent people associated with the subject matter.

What an achievement this production was. Set in the not-too-distant future, the show tackled the dangers of the rise of the BNP to the point of forming a national government. Tackling such a tough subject head-on must have taken a lot of courage and careful planning by the school head, teachers and staff.

Through this letters page I would like to congratulate and thank them all for providing the audience with a thoroughly gripping show.

I am not writing this letter as a parent of a child attending Burnt Mill or involved with the theatre school, but as an individual who recognises the dangers that Britain faces today.

Well done Burnt Mill, Harlow Playhouse, Phoenix Theatre and Makin' Steps School of Dance for this insight of how bad life would be if the far-right ever did form government.

£250 Harris Tweed jacket

WHY not break with tradition and give the man in your life a unique present this Christmas? We've got two Harris Tweed jackets, each worth £250, up for grabs in this fabulous Star competition!

A classic Harris Tweed sports jacket fits the bill. The iconic fabric is still woven by hand on the Western Isles of Scotland and is the only brand in the world protected by an Act of Parliament. Supply is limited as there are now fewer than 100 handloom weavers left on the islands.

Each and every jacket is woven by hand from 100 per cent pure new wool and can contain up to 20 different colours of dyed wool to give the unique Harris Tweed appearance.

Over the years, many celebrities have worn the Harris Tweed fabric, from members of the Royal Family to Hollywood superstar Clint Eastwood in the Dirty Harry films.

Sherlock Holmes creator Arthur Conan Doyle had his super-sleuth donning it, too, and the body of famous mountaineer George Mallory, who died on Everest in 1924, was identified 75 years later by the famous ORB trademark in his Harris Tweed jacket.

Harris Tweed Scotland is offering two lucky readers a Harris Tweed sports jacket in one of four colours: Barva (brown barley corn tweed), Dalmore (blue barley corn tweed), Taransay (green window pane) and Laxdale (black and white herringbone).

For more information, log on to www.harristweedscotland.com

For your chance to win one of two Harris Tweed jackets, answer the simple question in the coupon on the left and post it to: Harlow Star Harris Tweed Competition, The Media Centre, 40 Ware Road, Hertford, Hertfordshire SG13 7HU.

Alternatively, you can enter at our website www.harlowstar.co.uk by clicking on 'Competitions' in the Lifestyle pages. In the 'name of competition' box put Harlow Star Harris Tweed.

Parking for free to tempt shoppers

CHRISTMAS should be a less stressful affair this year after Harlow Council and the Harvey Centre agreed to embrace the season of goodwill by offering free parking for late-night shoppers.

From tonight (Thursday), shoppers can park for free between 6-9pm every Thursday leading up to Christmas at Post Office Walk, Water Gardens and Harvey Centre car parks.

More than 50 shops will be stay open late, with carollers and street entertainers providing some festive sparkle.

"I'm sure this will make Christmas shopping easier and keep spending local," said Councillor Simon Carter, chairman of the policy and resources committee.

"For shoppers it will mean they have a bit more money to spend on friends and families," Retail managers hope the scheme will continue to attract

By SARAH HUNT
star@hertsessexnews.co.uk

shoppers to Harlow throughout the festive season.

Harvey Centre manager Bryan Young said: "We have worked even harder this year to make Harlow the preferred destination of local and regional shoppers. We are very pleased to be able to take part."

Water Gardens manager Beryl Murphy added: "There's already a great deal of excitement being generated by Christmas shopping in Harlow and this will make the town even more attractive to customers."

"We have 1,030 parking spaces in The Water Gardens which we would like to see full with Christmas shoppers."

Shops already pledging to stay open late on the Thursdays include Marks & Spencer, Body Shop, Primark, Next, Jane Norman, New Look, BHS, Thorntons, Poundland and Gamestation.

Queues form at M&S for 'penny bazaar' bargains

FRIDAY the thirteenth proved lucky for some as shoppers queued in the rain in Harlow to scoop Christmas goods for just one penny.

The Christmas Penny Bazaar at Marks & Spencer's Broad Walk store offered an exclusive range of 15 different products for just 1p each.

Stocking fillers included socks, hankies, puzzles, mugs, ties, key rings and chocolates as well as other items like tea towels and notebooks.

Customers could choose up to five products each with all cash donated to charity.

One plucky shopper who braved the rain to snap up a bargain said ironically: "At the moment I'm a bit cold and wet. Apparently it's not just queuing – it's M&S queuing."

Did the spirit of jilted lover haunt house?

By DAN PHILLIPS
daniel.phillips@hertsessexnews.co.uk

A CHILLING story about a haunted house in Harlow has been revealed in a new book.

Wesley Downes' Memories of an Essex Ghosthunter recalls paranormal events occurring at a then newly converted house known as The Hornbeams in 1977.

Mr Downes, a psychic investigator, recalls the misfortune that befell three elderly ladies who bought a flat together in the house.

"The ladies had only been in residence for a few weeks when they were plagued by what turned out to be a fairly violent male poltergeist," he writes.

"Over the next eight or so months he regularly terrorised them in one way or another, at times just moving objects around in their rooms, at others hiding things away and a few days later returning them to their original places.

"Sometimes he would awaken them during the night by clumping around their bedrooms as if wearing hobnailed boots. In fact, it was almost as if he were conducting a personal vendetta against them."

It appears that on one occasion the apparition tipped one of the ladies out of her bed by lifting up the side before letting it crash back to the floor. "When he appeared to the ladies he took the form of a blazing ball of white fire that just seemed to hover and, as it floated towards you, you could feel it touch you — it was like a numbing chill," said Mr Downes.

The situation came to a head and ladies decided that they could no longer stand the presence and called in a priest to perform an exorcism. The spiritual eviction appeared to be successful as from then on they were no longer plagued by the uninvited intruder.

Mr Downes investigated The Hornbeams and unearthed a possible reason for the paranormal activity. "I later discovered that one of the former occupiers of The Hornbeams, having been jilted by the lady he was to have married, became so distressed and mentally unbalanced that he became a confirmed woman-hater and eventually took his own life in the house."

The book recounts this and many other ghostly goings on in Essex from throughout Mr Downes' 60 years of researching the paranormal. Memories of an Essex Ghosthunter is published by Countryside Books; visit www.countrysidebooks.co.uk for more information.

NOSTALGIA UPDATE

A PHOTOGRAPH of the presentation to members of the Cossor ten-pin bowling team taken back in 1968 brought back many happy memories for one Star reader.

Harlow resident Nicholas Taylor got in touch after we printed the picture in Nostalgia a couple of weeks ago.

He was able to identify the person on the far right as Mark Tanner, who at the time was in his early teens and who also bowled with his older brother, Dave, in Harlow's Youth Ten-pin Bowling Club.

The lady third from the right is Gladys Owen, whose son-in-law Trevor and grandson Lee have both taken up the sport and bowl at the Collier Row Bowl in Romford.

"In 1969 I joined the Cossor league at the age of 16 and won the high game trophy bowling a 245 game during the 1970 season," said Mr Taylor, of Fir Park. "Within a year the bowl had closed and it was some 28 years before ten-pin bowling returned to Harlow."

Thanks for sharing your memories, Mr Taylor.

CHANGE THE LAW

A campaign to change the law to warn holidaymakers of hazards abroad is being demanded by Harlow MP Jerry Hayes following the tragic death of a local policeman in Majorca. PC James Rogers (44), a dog handler for British Transport Police, drowned after being swept on to hidden rocks while swimming on a beach.

FLYING THE FLAG

Rev Joss Smith flew the flag for Remembrance Sunday after embarrassed council officials forgot to raise the Union Jack. War veteran Mr Smith spotted the blunder while walking past Harlow Town Hall. A council spokesman said it was an "oversight" and thanked the reverend for his help.

REFUSE ROW RUMBLES

The town's refuse collection is being threatened again following an overtime ban by dustmen working out of the Edinburgh Way depot. The men who have described themselves as the "Cinderellas of council employees" receive a basic wage pay of £84 per week.

NEW DANCE CRAZE

The latest body-popping dance craze had Harlow on stride when teenagers from the Caribbean County Association challenged the counterparts in Hackney to a contest. About 200 people attended the event in Staple Tye as the East London teens scooped all of the prizes for the jerky robot-style dancing.

Deaths

GERALDINE DORIS COOK

Our beautiful Mum passed away on 10th November aged 60 years. After a brave fight with cancer. Cherished by her Children, Joanne, Michael and Lucy. Adored by Grandchildren Louise, Olivia, Samuel and Phoebe. A family left devastated and broken, but knowing she is reunited with our Dad, her Husband Vic, makes the pain a little easier to bear.

"Till we meet again"

Homes

for all lifestyles

THIS stunning three-bedroom property with two bathrooms, garage and parking is set in a sought-after village cul-de-sac location.

The property has been upgraded to show home standard, with wooden floors, a luxury bathroom and shower room, large fitted kitchen and breakfast area, dining room and large lounge.

Accommodation comprises a double-glazed doorway leading into the hall which features a downstairs cloakroom.

The 22ft lounge has double-glazed patio doors onto the garden, wood flooring, floor-to-ceiling designer radiators and spotlights.

The stylish kitchen features an integrated dishwasher, a built-in oven and four-ring hob and a breakfast bar.

There is also a separate dining room with a window to the front aspect.

The first-floor double landing gives access to a generously-proportioned master bedroom which benefits from an en suite shower room.

There are also two good-sized single rooms and a stylish family bathroom.

Outside, the lawned garden features a patio area and has an outside light.

A New Superhero For Church Langley

Sapphire Church Langley have landed!

new launch (not to be missed)
promotion

First 5 Homes To Be Sold Are Free!
& the next 10 are 1/2 price

Free
Free

0.7% thereafter

Due to the success of the Sapphire approach to selling homes in Harlow, we have decided to launch an office dedicated to Church Langley. At Sapphire we understand buyer behaviour and we know that buyers will tend to look online for properties as to looking in the high street, so rather than have expensive flashy premises; we invest our money in the marketing of your property online - that's what's most important.

Because our overheads are far lower than other high street estate agents, we can afford to offer lower commission fees. Once the promotional period is over properties can be sold for only 0.7%!

- No contracts to sign, No sole agency agreements, No tie ins.
- Only 0.7% to sell your property
- Unlimited marketing on Rightmove & other internet portals
- H.I.P.S. only £186 + VAT

Sapphire – The new hero for Church Langley, saving you both time & money!

NEW OFFICE AND WEBSITE

We are pleased to celebrate the opening of our Old Harlow office. We are delighted to be located within the centre of Old Harlow amongst Solicitors, Surveyors, Accountants and other Estate & Letting Agents.

We have also just launched our new website which has been simplified to optimize the speed which properties are searched for. Every property has at least 8 photographs by clicking on the individual photographs the image balloons to 6' x 5' - a really decent viewing size!

We have been established in Harlow since 1987. For many years we were Town Centre based and over the last 22 years we have sold 1000's of properties and our database shows that many of our clients have moved to either Old Harlow, Church Langley, Newhall or the surrounding villages. We are now perfectly located to assist them all once more.

Having weathered the property recessions in 1990 and 2008/9 we are extremely excited about the future of the Harlow town housing market and should anybody be contemplating a move in the near future please call us for a free valuation.

Our enthusiasm and experience will not be matched. We promise to be straight talking, competitive and will try our utmost to make the whole moving process far less stressful.

Harlow's punk pioneers set for a digital revival

what's on at The Square

CONTINUING this week's completely unintentional blank generation theme, legendary guttersnipe punks and John Peel favourites The Vibrators explode onto The Square's stage tomorrow night (Friday). One of the most enduringly thrilling acts to have emerged out of punk's first wave, the band has pretty much toured solidly since their inception in 1976 – albeit with more line-up changes than an England friendly against Lynyrd Skynyrd – and will be looking to inspire a whole new generation with their frenetic three-chord polemics. Support comes from obscenely brilliant punk-rock revivalists Ten O Sevens and Wigan's The Adjusters.

PUNKS looking for a nostalgia hit can now get their hands on exclusive unreleased material from Harlow's legendary power-trio Newtown Neurotics after frontman Steve Drewett secured a lucrative three-album download deal with a top US website.

The singer, songwriter and guitarist reformed the band in 2006 and has been touring with a new line-up ever since. He is now hoping the digital deal will introduce a whole new generation to the splenetic three-piece's politicised polemics.

Coming on the back of a string of sold-out Neurotics gigs across Britain and Europe this year, the MP3 albums hosted at www.anthologyrecordings.com feature demos, rarities and blistering live performances, most of which have never been heard before.

"I am really excited about this development," Steve told the Star. "This site has given me the chance to take a retrospective look at my career over the last 20 years and make available recordings that up to now have never been released."

The first of the three albums – The Elephant Demos – is cut from the bleeding-raw original studio recordings made by Newtown Neurotics in a bid to secure their first record deal, and showcases a vibrant young band chomping at the bit to get their music released.

The next, Triumph Over Adversity, features some brain-meltingly brilliant live tracks taken from the band's legendary gig at Brunel University and depicts the band in ferocious form towards the end of the 1980s.

Completing the trilogy is The Broad Church Of The Indestructible Beat, a hypnotic collection of infectious Afro-punk numbers by The Indestructible Beat, the band Steve formed after the Neurotics went into semi-retirement in 1988.

"These releases are a musical journey," Steve continued. "The Elephant Demos show the band in an embryonic stage but with all their musical faculties in place, while the Brunel gig is one of greatest live recordings of the band, performing one of our most exciting sets ever and plainly showing just how far we had progressed musically."

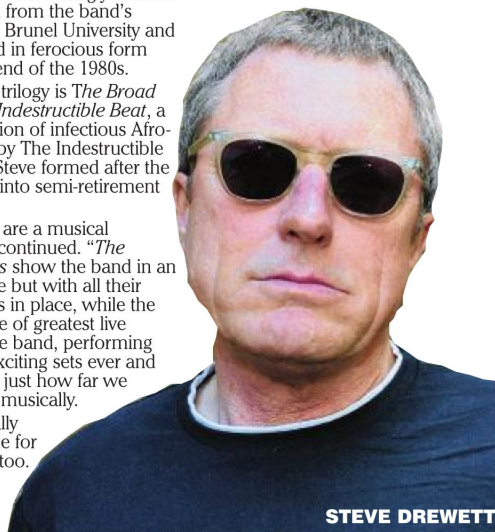

"This deal is really important for me for another reason too. It makes my music available globally, sweeping away the difficulties of old-style distribution methods of moving pieces of plastic onto shop shelves.

"Distance is now no object; anyone can become a Neurotic!"

Creative play will give tots an early head start

A NEW pre-school drama project aimed at developing youngsters' confidence and imagination has been launched in Harlow.

Open to tots aged between two and five, Pyjama Drama was launched earlier this month at St. Andrew's Methodist Church in The Stow, where classes will continue to be held on Thursday and Saturday mornings.

"We believe that children really learn through creative play and therefore it should be central to the daily lives of children," said Pauline Gill, who runs the Harlow and East Herts group.

"It's never too early to develop key skills and at Pyjama Drama we aim to achieve this whilst having a whole lot of fun."

Each 40-minute session explores a new theme where children can learn new songs, play instruments, develop drama skills and play imaginative games. Mother-of-three Sarah Randall is running the Harlow sessions, aiming to use her own experience of children's learning to develop youngsters' social and imaginative skills.

"This is such a key time in their development," she said. "I want to pass onto children the benefits of play and pretend whilst encouraging parents to learn how to play with their children in a way that catches their attention and in a way they can understand."

Places are limited and allocated on a first-come first-served basis. For more information, visit the website at www.pyjamadrama.com

what's on at The Playhouse

MUSICAL: Some of Harlow's finest singing talent – including Jason Thorpe, Debbie Hannam and James Miller – perform songs from some of the most recent West End and Broadway hits in The Playhouse Studio tomorrow (Friday). The show starts at 8.15pm and tickets cost £9 (£8 concessions).

COMEDY: The Comedy Club returns to The Playhouse tomorrow (Friday) night for its second rib-tickling gag-fest of the season. Compered by the energetic Nik Coppin, the evening will also feature stand-up sets from acerbic rising star Imran Yusuf and comedy veteran Martin Coyote. The show begins at 8pm and tickets cost £10.

DANCE: The Sheila Douglas School of Dancing presents its debut Playhouse performance, Let's Rock, at the theatre on Saturday. A talented cast of dancers aged between three and 65 will perform expertly-choreographed routines to classic tunes. The show starts at 7.30pm and tickets cost £10 (£8 concessions).

MUSIC: The Playhouse hosts another evening of sublime classical music on Sunday when Ensemble 360 breath new life into a choice selection of unjustly underrated works from the likes of Prokofiev, Martinu, Haydn and Schumann. The 7pm show will be preceded by a talk on the chamber music of Schumann and Martinu at 6pm. Tickets for the concert cost £14 (£5 under 25s).

Vampire saga is back for a second helping

TWILIGHT SAGA: NEW MOON
certificate 12A
2h10m

IN this second instalment of Stephenie Meyer's best-selling Twilight novels, the love affair between teenage misfit Bella Swan and vampire Edward Cullen reaches a crossroads, and all the paths ahead lead to heartbreak for one of the pair.

Bella (Kristen Stewart) celebrates her 18th birthday and, soon after, Edward (Robert Pattinson) and the Cullen clan – Dr Carlisle (Peter Facinelli), Esme (Elizabeth Reaser), Alice (Ashley Greene) and Emmett (Kellan Lutz) – are forced to abandon the close-knit community of Forks, Washington, if their human friend is ever to be safe from harm.

Abandoned by her true love, the teenage mortal becomes a shadow of her former self until her relationship with family friend Jacob Black (Taylor Lautner) and his Quileute tribe takes an exciting new turn.

When an old adversary returns to deal Bella a fatal blow, a new protector is there in her hour of need, setting up a potential reunion with Edward when she will learn the truth about his hurried departure.

Caine's so able as ageing vigilante

certificate 12A
2h10m

SIR Michael Caine delivers one of his finest performances for years in a role thematically reminiscent of Clint Eastwood's harrowing thriller Gran Torino.

Caine plays Harry Brown, a widower who lives alone on a housing estate which is under the control of a gang of thugs led by the sadistic Noel Winters (Ben Drew).

The war veteran's closest pal Leonard (David Bradley) is being terrorised by Noel's posse – they push dog faeces through his letterbox and even set fire to the old man's doormat.

A day later, DCI Frampton (Emily Mortimer) and sidekick Hicock (Charlie Creed-Miles) arrive with desperate news: Leonard has been found stabbed to death in an underpass. Harry swears revenge and sets about tracking down the young men who killed his pal, then makes sure they pay for their heinous crime with their sad, worthless lives.

The film strikes very few false emotional notes, emboldened by Caine's fearless and mesmerising lead performance as a man with nothing to lose, who may very well pay with his life as he does out tough justice. Gary Young's script focuses almost entirely on life through a grimy lens, but there are odd glimmers of wry humour.

By necessity, scenes of violence are graphic and unsettling, punctuating a narrative that doesn't pretend to hold any easy answers to 21st century social malaise.

still showing

2012: Having previously destroyed all the major cities in an alien invasion (Independence Day) and plunged the globe back into the Ice Age (The Day After Tomorrow), director Roland Emmerich goes one better in 2012 by trying to wipe out the entire human race. John Cusack stars in the jaw-dropping, special-effects frenzy based on the premise that Earth will come to a dramatic end on December 21, 2012, as decreed by the Mayan calendar.

A CHRISTMAS CAROL: Robert Zemeckis's technologically groundbreaking adaptation of Dickens' festive novella is a delightful early Christmas present. His team drag the timeless fable kicking and screaming into the 21st century using state-of-the-art motion capture technology.

FANTASTIC MR FOX: Hip indie director Wes Anderson brings his offbeat and distinctly adult sensibilities to bear on Roald Dahl's classic children's story, with lead voices from George Clooney and Meryl Streep. He imprints his personality so indelibly on the script that it's hard to see children enjoying the film. The stop-motion animation is visually impressive, but Fantastic Mr Fox is a film you admire and marvel at rather than unreservedly love.

UP (3D & 2D): The latest computer-animated masterpiece from the wizards at Pixar (Wall-E, Ratatouille) is an adventure in the company of a cranky old man and an excitable young boy. Both hysterical and heartbreaking, this rumbustious romp is guaranteed to have even the hardest and most cynical soul choking back tears long after the lights go up. The opening 10 minutes of Up are among the finest Pixar has ever crafted.

PARANORMAL ACTIVITY: After a young, middle class couple moves into what seems like a typical suburban starter home they become increasingly disturbed by a presence that may or may not be demonic, but is certainly most active in the middle of the night.

kids club

BEDTIME STORIES: So-so family adventure-comedy about hotel handyman Skeeter Bronson (Adam Sandler), whose life changes when the lavish bedtime stories he tells his niece and nephew start to come true.

MONSTERS V ALIENS: When a meteorite from outer space hits a young woman and turns her into a giant monster, she is taken to a secret government compound where she meets a ragtag group of monsters also rounded up over the years.

A rare thoroughbred beast

Built to the usual high standards we have come to expect from Mercedes, the E 63 AMG Estate is very much a machine for the keen family driver, writes IAIN DOOLEY

AS sure as night follows day, you can expect an AMG version of the latest Mercedes to appear right after the sensible version has made its showroom debut.

The appearance of the E 63 AMG Estate is yet another example of this predictable approach from the German car maker. It offers the same load-lugging abilities of its cooking cousin and is built to the usual high standards we've come to expect in recent years. It's a little bit quicker, too.

What is surprising is that the AMG and Mercedes engineers have turned out a large estate car with the ability to outdrag most performance cars, handle in a way that shouldn't be the case for such a big family wagon and prove easy to drive when you don't need to set land speed records on your local autobahn.

FACT file

Mercedes Benz E 63 AMG Estate

PRICE

On sale spring 2010 (expect small rise over current car's £68,408)

ENGINE	6.2-litre petrol V8 unit developing 518bhp
TRANSMISSION	7-speed Speedshift MCT auto driving rear wheels
CO ₂ EMISSIONS	299g/km
PERFORMANCE	0-62mph 4.6s/top speed 155mph
ECONOMY	22.1mpg

The market might be small for a £70,000-odd large estate, but when viewed alongside high-performance SUVs, the E 63 makes a lot of sense. For some an adrenaline-pumped 4x4 is nothing more than a status symbol. The E-Class can actually walk the walk, and it's all down to a surprisingly sensible approach from the Mercedes engineers.

At the end of the day, if you're offering a conventional-looking car like the E-Class with a 518 horsepower, 6.2-litre V8 engine it's got to go where you point it. Oh yes, this thing's got the same basic engine as the gullwing-inspired SLS. When you need to get that antique desk from one auction room to the next in a hurry, this is the car you'll need.

With a wider track than the regular E-Class estate, retuned suspension, massive brakes, a trademark subtle but effective AMG bodykit, 18-inch wheels (19s are optional) and quad tailpipes, AMG fans won't have a problem spotting it from afar. The rest of us will have to wait until the owner fires up the mighty V8 motor. And then you'll know, as it sounds just like how 'proper' TVRs used to sound – loud.

Yes, this thing sounds as good as it goes. With a blistering zero to 62mph time of 4.6 seconds, you will not be short of behind-the-wheel thrills. And remember, it also boasts 1,950 litres of space with the rear seats folded. Heck, you can even add a two-seat, rear-facing bench for the full seven-seat family estate experience. They fold into the boot space MPV-style when not in use.

For all the car's load-lugging abilities – and there are many – the E 63 Estate is very much a machine for the keen family driver with a regular need to transport bulky items. In this role it's an absolute hoot. And it's the real deal in terms of performance; with the same seven-speed switchable auto gearbox as the SL 63 AMG roadster, offering a selection of increasingly hardcore modes, plus (adjustable) handling to match, you can point this E 63 down a twisty A-road and have a lot of fun.

With chunky paddle shifters behind the steering wheel and the option to turn off all the electronic aids for maximum fun, the only limiting factor is the car's electronically curtailed 155mph top speed. Like the car's long list of standard fit creature comforts, such things fade into the background when you've got a bellowing V8 engine and Porsche-like acceleration for company. Anyone seeking thoroughbred performance and real-world practicality should have the E 63 Estate on their shopping list. Like any big Merc estate it swallows furniture whole. Unlike your average four-wheeled holdall, it sounds fantastic, rivals a 911 for pace and outsteers almost anything else with four doors and a big boot. Although destined to be a rare beast, it'll be worth tracking one down.

SHS is a national charity that places highly trained practitioners in schools to support children and families whatever they are going through. Following a successful tender bid, SHS will be working in partnership with Harlow Education Consortium to provide a targeted support service for young people and families in Harlow.

School-Home Support Workers

Harlow £19,579-£24,170 p.a. Ref: H/SHSW/HS
Full-time A/L: school holidays (max 13 weeks p.a.)

Based in a school or centre, you'll work with children, young people and their parents/carers to identify and resolve problems before they become bigger issues, ensuring that disadvantaged children and young people have full access to learning. Your focus will be one of three areas: support around attendance issues, support to young people at risk of exclusion and family breakdown, or encouraging motivation and aspiration amongst children and young people to succeed.

With strong experience of working with parents, children, and young people, you'll have a good understanding of the social and emotional factors affecting a child's ability to learn. You'll also be an excellent communicator, highly organised, and able to deal with sensitive issues in an empathetic way.

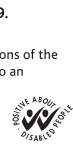

To apply, visit www.shs.org.uk

Closing date: 12 noon, 04/12/09.

Interviews: w/c 14/12/09.

We welcome applicants from all sections of the community. These posts are subject to an enhanced disclosure from the CRB. Charity no: 1084696.

HOMELESSNESS PREVENTION OFFICER - (Ref: 1M032N) Salary range from £20,572 pa to £27,228 pa

The focus of the Homelessness Assessment and Prevention Officer is to take a proactive approach to prevent homelessness by offering advice and assistance to potential clients before their situation escalates to that of homelessness. If homelessness is unable to be prevented, applications are assessed under the Housing Act with decisions made under this legislation being subject to professional and legal scrutiny. The successful candidate will visit potential clients in their own homes to assess their housing situation, answer housing queries and offer housing advice.

Applicants should ideally be educated to degree level. Whilst we provide on the job training in areas such as legislation and benefits, the successful candidate will have relevant experience in a housing/benefits environment. Candidates must be able to demonstrate excellent communication & organisational skills and possess the ability to work within a busy, and often stressful environment.

Should you wish to discuss this position prior to application, call 01992 785555 extension 5855 and ask for Katy Leman, Homelessness Prevention Manager.

TECHNICAL OFFICER - (Ref: 1E176N)
Salary up to £12,500 p.a. - 18.5 hours

The duties of this post will include surveying and inspecting buildings, land and sewerage systems. A relevant building or Environmental Health qualification is essential. It would also be helpful if applicants have a working knowledge of current legislation, national guidance and codes of practice in relation to these areas of work.

Applicants must have excellent customer care skills and a full valid driving licence and be willing to be on rota to cover our out of hour's noise service.

The benefit package for both posts includes flexible working hours, competency based pay, a full training and development programme, free membership to our local leisure centres and a final salary local government pension scheme.

CLOSING DATE FOR APPLICATIONS FRIDAY 27TH NOVEMBER 2009
ONLY SHORTLISTED APPLICANTS WILL BE CONTACTED

Creating links to break chains

Continuum Care & Education Group provide educational services to children throughout the UK. Our school in Harlow is registered for boys and girls aged between 13 and 16 on admission and therefore candidates should have experience of the respective key stages.

Senior Teacher - with curriculum experience in either Design & Technology, Mathematics or PSHE - £32,000 p. a.

We are seeking a dedicated and enthusiastic senior teacher to work with young people within our school in Harlow who can often display challenging behaviour. The senior teacher will be responsible for induction of new pupils, initial assessments, monitoring and evaluation of teaching and learning, and OFSTED preparation. We require candidates to have a relevant teaching qualification, have the ability to manage and lead a team of teaching staff and ideally experience of working with challenging young people who are in need of some positive experiences in life. A resilient "can do" attitude is essential.

Qualified Teacher - All subjects considered - £28,500 p. a.

We are seeking dedicated and enthusiastic teachers to also work with vulnerable young people within our school in Harlow. We require candidates to either have a relevant teaching qualification and ideally experience of working with challenging young people who are in need of some positive experiences in life. We can be flexible relating to subjects but a resilient "can do" attitude is essential.

Closing date: Thursday 26th November 2009

If you are interested in either of these roles and feel you have the qualities required please e-mail your CV to: hr@continuumgroup.org.uk stating which vacancy you are applying for or alternatively please call us on 01706 644471 for an application form.

Public Notices

Essex County Council
(First Avenue, Harlow) (Temporary Prohibition of Traffic) Order 2009

Notice is hereby given that the Essex County Council has made the above Order under Section 14(1) of the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984.

Effect of the order: To temporarily close that length of First Avenue in the District of Harlow from its junction with Howard Way proceeding east to its junction with the A414.

The closure is scheduled to commence on 25 November 2009 - 8 December 2009 between the hours of 8.00pm to 6.00am or where appropriate signs are showing and weather permitting.

The closure is required for the safety of the public and workforce whilst resurfacing works are undertaken.

The alternative route will be via Howard Way - Edinburgh Way - A414 and vice versa.

Access for emergency service vehicles and pedestrians will be maintained at all times during the closure.

The Order will come into effect on 25 November 2009 and may continue in force for 18 months or until the works have been completed, whichever is the earlier.

(Banks Lane, Theydon Mount) (Temporary Prohibition of Traffic) Order 2009

Notice is hereby given that the Essex County Council intends, not less than seven days from the date of this notice, to make the above Order under section 14(1) of the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984.

Effect of the order: To temporarily close Banks Lane, Theydon Mount, in the District of Epping Forest, from its junction with Mount Road, to its southern junction with Tawney Common.

The closure is scheduled to commence on 30 November 2009 for 5 days, weather permitting, or where appropriate signs are showing, and is required for the safety of the public and workforce while Balfour Beatty Utilities install a new water service connection.

Access for emergency vehicles and pedestrians will be maintained at all times during the closure.

The alternative route will be via Epping Road, School Road, Toot Hill, Blake Hall Road, A414 Epping Road, High Road, B181 High Road, Epping Road, Coopersale Common, Houlbions Hill, Coopersale Street, Mount Road and vice versa.

The Order will come into effect on 30 November 2009 and may continue in force for 18 months or until the works have been completed, whichever is the earlier.

(First Avenue (Westbound & Eastbound), Harlow)
(Bus Lane) Order 2009

Notice is hereby given that the Essex County Council has made the above Order under Sections 1(1), 2(1) to (3), 3(2) and Part III & IV to Schedule 9 of the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984.

Effect of the order: To introduce a Bus Lane for the use of buses, coaches, taxis, motorcycles and pedal cycles on the First Avenue in the District of Harlow as specified:

Road Distance/Location

First Avenue
(Westbound Carriageway)

From a point 142 metres west of the centreline of London Road give way line, running westbound along First Avenue, terminating 85 metres east of the centreline of Velizy Avenue give way line.

First Avenue
(Eastbound Carriageway)

From a point 92 metres east of the centreline of Muskhram Road, running eastbound along First Avenue to a point 45 metres west of the First Avenue give way line on the A414 entry on to the A414/First Avenue Roundabout.

'The Essex County Council (First Avenue (Westbound), Harlow) (Bus Lane) (Part 1) Order 2008' and 'The Essex County Council (First Avenue (Westbound), Harlow) (Bus Lane) (Part 2) Order 2008' are hereby revoked.

Date of operation: The Order will come into operation on 27 November 2009 or when the necessary signing is completed whichever is the later.

Further details: A copy of the Order and plans may be examined during normal office hours at County Hall, Chelmsford CM1 1LX.

Application to the high court: Anyone who wishes to question the validity of the Order of any provision contained in it on the grounds that it is not within the powers conferred by the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984 or on the grounds that any requirement of the Act, or any instrument made under it, has not been complied with in relation to the Order, may within six weeks from the date of the making of the Order apply to the High Court for this purpose.

Dated: 19 November 2009.

Ware Wolves get the silver bullet as Hawks avoid upset

THERE was no upset as Harlow Hawks defeated Herts Basketball League division two side Ware Wolves in their second county cup group game.

Friday's win came after they had lost their first group game and was against a team containing experienced players quite capable of causing problems.

A three-pointer from Nick Moss opened the scoring. Mark Haddow was dominant inside for the Hawks as he scored 14 points in the opening quarter and was a big factor in a 13-5 run.

Good team play led to easy scores early on but the Wolves kept the game close.

Harlow were 21-16 ahead going into the second quarter.

Zaf Niaz scored four points before Shab Niaz hit two three-pointers to finish the quarter with an 8-0 run.

Hawks led 39-26 at the halfway stage.

The third quarter saw the Wolves increase their intensity as sloppy passes from Hawks led to easy turnovers, allowing the visitors to go on a 13-5 run.

Following a time-out from Hawks coach Shab Niaz, Harlow showed why they were league champions last season as the finished the quarter strongly with a 11-0 run.

However, Wolves mounted comeback and had a 12-4 run.

But some smart play by Hawks ensured that they kept possession and ran the clock down to finish with a 66-53 victory.

HARLOW HAWKS: Haddow (23 pts) Freeman (12), S. Niaz (9), Moss (7), Z. Niaz (6), Spashett (5), Allan (4) Hinds.

Late goal hits promotion hopes

JOE Symonds' Harlow side simply MUST beat second-from-bottom Old

Southendians this Saturday as they bid to stop a run of two successive defeats.

Third-placed Colchester won a hard-fought contest at Passmores School last Saturday to hit Harlow's promotion hopes.

The hosts looked the more dangerous team from the outset and managed to create more chances without managing to convert.

Symonds coped well with the few Colchester attacks as the half ended goalless.

The second half was more open and both teams created chances to score but the deadlock was not broken until late in the half.

With 10 minutes remaining Colchester managed to split the Harlow defence and a pass somehow found its way to the far post for an advancing forward to sweep in from close range, leaving Harlow keeper Adam Johnson no chance.

After falling behind Harlow pressed forward in search of an equaliser but Colchester put 10 men behind the ball and ran down the clock to leave Symonds' men disappointed.

HARLOW: Johnson, Castle, Plumridge, Jones, Symonds (c), Kroszka, Smith, Shearman-Slack, Otley, Kirk, Chandler.

Ladies are set-piece specialists

A CLINICAL edge from set-pieces was the difference as Harlow defeated Thurrock.

Harlow went on the offensive from the start with captain Emma Tweddle and Georgina Esterhuysen forcing the play through the midfield – only to be thwarted by the in-form Thurrock sweeper.

The conditions worsened but the hosts were able to turn their advantage into short corners.

Tweddle fired home a fearsome shot after eight minutes to break the deadlock.

When the Harlow centre-forward played the ball onto the foot of an opponent seven minutes later, top scorer Carolyn Rushton stepped up to convert the subsequent penalty corner low into the net.

The home side did not have it all their own way however, and had to rely on quick reflexes from goalkeeper Linda Rowley to thwart a Thurrock counter-attack, culminating in a low shot saved at her near post.

Harlow 3, Thurrock II 1
Essex Women's Hockey League, premier division

The Harlow defence were miserly form and kept threats on goal to a minimum, enabling them to go into the break with two-goal cushion.

As the weather continued to deteriorate in the second half, another set-piece conversion by Rushton gave Harlow the comfort they needed.

Only a consolation goal by Thurrock midfielder with 10 minutes left marred the performance.

A lazy run from 3 yards went unchecked despite Anita Shearman-Slack's last ditch attempt to challenge.

Jess Ashford went close in the dying stages for Harlow as the hosts held out for a deserved win.

HARLOW LADIES (squad): Rowle Shearman-Slack, Rushton, Jo Gree Douglas, Tweddle, Esterhuysen, Ferdinando, Figg, Amos, Phipp Ashford.

More success for dog on the Up

Welcome to Inside Track, our column that gives you the reader an insight into Harlow Greyhound Stadium as our top tipster reveals his favourites for tomorrow (Friday November 20).

THE on-course bookmakers took a real hammering here last Friday with many fancied selections doing the business, hopefully we can inflict more punishment this week.

HARLOW UP was one of the well supported winners on that card and there is no reason why he can't follow up that success.

His main asset seems to be his blistering early pace and he can settle the issue by halfway.

Harlow's dog of the year for 2008, RUBY LODGE makes another appearance this week and is worth interest as he returns to his favourite distance.

He has performed with great credit over the shorter trip but has always saved his best efforts for the six bend events.

From a perfect trap one draw, he can lead from the third bend and record yet another victory.

Selections: 7.30pm Marfur Daley; 7.46pm Pontiac; 8.02pm Torpeys Post; 8.18pm Swift Planet; 8.34pm Dainty Swift; 8.50pm Mandley Girl; 9.06pm Ruby Lodge; 9.22pm Ashlings Legend; 9.38pm Harlow Up; 9.54pm No Joke Christy; 10.10pm Ronnies Special; 10.25pm Liosgarbh Well; 10.40pm Trotters Meerat.

Admiral fight back

Darts

ADMIRAL came back from 3-1 down against Tye Green Foxes to win 5-3, taking them to joint top of the Harlow & District Darts League.

Servo Link won 8-0 at The Crusader.

Early season leaders ST Colts slipped to third after losing 3-5 at home to Tye Green Whites in spite of a 180 from Richie Barnard. Whites' Geoff Jordan shot out on 115.

Golden Swift only fielded six players but still squeezed a 3-5 win at Harlow Hawks with the help of a 180 from Steve Quintin.

Moot House, also playing with only six players, lost out 3-5 to Moot House Arrows. Colt Hatch were beaten 3-5 against UG Social.

After last week's first defeat of the season Young Pretenders recorded a solid win 6-2 against Stow Snooker.

Runners brave wet

JOHN Tennant and his Harlow Running Club colleagues braved the wind and rain last Thursday to complete the first of three Stevenage 5km races.

Tennant clocked 19 mins 57 secs.

He was closely followed by Jason Haigh in 20:10.

Sean Flynn, running in his first 5km race, recorded 22:28.

First Harlow lady was Dionne Jones in 22:36, followed by Sharon Wright, in her first race since a maternity break, in 23:39.

Meanwhile, at the St Neots half marathon, run in much more conducive conditions, first Harlow runner was Jon Steadman in 107th place out of 900 finishers in 1hr 30min 57sec.

He was followed home by Vicky Steadman in 1:38.40 and Katie Herrington in 1:41.32.

Defeat for Harlow

HARLOW suffered a narrow 3-2 defeat at home to Stevenage in division four of the Herts Squash League.

Fifth string Dan Collison, short on match fitness due to recent surgery, went down 11-15, 10-15, 15-9, 8-15.

There were straight set wins for Dave Gear and Ian Gould, but Vinh Tram and Mike Symmons lost.

Rifle club team fires up second title win

A TEAM from the United Glass Rifle Club has retained the National Shooting Rifle Association (NSRA) 50-yard Metric League division one title.

The team, based at the club's Harlow HQ in London Road, came top of the 10-team division after winning nine of its 10 matches, picking up 18 points.

They clinched the championship when they defeated title rivals Appleton A 800-796 in the last round of matches.

Their score equalled the British record as not a single shot was missed.

It was Cheshire-based Appleton's only defeat.

They finished second in the final table with 17 points.

The Harlow team is made up of James Huckle – who has represented Great Britain – Jack Savva, Chris Lawton and Harry Gould.

Huckle and Lawton finished with 100 per cent records.

The pair each scored a maximum 200 points in their 10 matches as United Glass scored 7,982 out of a possible 8,000 during the season.

Savva, also the club secretary, said: "The club is thrilled to have won it again. It was good to get the British record."

Savva is not surprised the club is dominating the sport nationally. "It's down to training and practice against each other as well as good teamwork. James is very good and we hope he goes on to the [London] Olympics but we also have a lot of experience in our team."

Teen's top tips from Sir Nick

Golf

CANONS Brook golfer Steve Jones will be taking newly-knighted Sir Nick Faldo's advice on board as he looks to gain international selection.

The talented 17-year-old listened intently to the golf legend and former Open Champion when he played in the Faldo Series Grand Final in Rio de Janeiro, Brazil.

Faldo, a six times Major winner, spoke to all the young players who had qualified for the final of this prestigious competition.

The Welwyn Garden City-born star held a question-and-answer session at the event.

A total of 17 young golfers from across the UK qualified for the final.

Jones, of Ladywell Prospect, Sawbridgeworth, is hoping to gain selection for the England boys U-18 team next year. He said: "He [Faldo] spoke about what he did as a player and about all the hours you have to put in to be good.

"He is quite laid back but he works very hard. I will be working as hard I can this winter and want to break into the England squad."

Jones, who plays off a handicap of 1+, has been a member at Harlow's Canons Brook Golf Club for seven years.

four over par over the three rounds.

He was eight shots behind London-based winner Jonathan Bell.

"It was a really good week and I learned a lot," said Jones.

"I was happy with the finish.

There were a lot of good players there. I did not play that well in the first round but got the ball in the holes well. I did not do well in the next two rounds. We can all play well but it's a question of consistency."

The Brazil experience was also instructive in other ways.

"It was so hot and getting around [the course] is a task in itself," admitted Jones.

"It was a completely different type of grass [to the UK]. I think it was Bermudan grass and you had to hit the ball harder [to get the same distance] and this meant I had to alter my swing. It took a bit of getting used to."

Victory seals spot in county cup last eight

Youth rugby round-up

The Rams regained control with Lewis Brown and centre Matt Norris scoring unconverted tries before Handscomb scored again. This was converted by Davies.

Lane scored Harlow's last try to complete his hat-trick after dummifying round the pack on the blind side.

Harlow U-14s defeated Canvey Island 15-7 at home in division three of the Essex League.

Frazer Bleach put Harlow ahead with an unconverted try before Canvey responded with a converted try, giving the visitors a 7-5 half-time lead.

Rhys Davies and Scott Whitby scored the Rams' second-half tries.

Harlow U-17s beat Clacton 25-12 at home in division three of the Essex League.

Harlow led 10-0 at half-time through a Jack Darby try and this was converted by Denzil Crafton who later kicked a penalty. James Peddar scored an unconverted try and David Briggins ran 70m to score a try converted by Crafton for a 22-0 lead.

The visitors then enjoyed an excellent passage of play, scoring two tries with one conversion.

Crafton kicked another penalty for Harlow to round off the scoring.

Rhys Whitby scored a try for Harlow U-13s when they lost 47-5 to a well-drilled Saffron Walden side.

Harlow U-16s lost 3-0 to Baintree.

Sian's super debut

SADE Akinkunmi (10) enjoyed a great competitive debut when she claimed bronze in the second round of the Essex Cross Country League.

She was third in the U-11 race at Chelmsford on Sunday and was followed home by fellow Harlow Athletic Club member 10-year-old Rosie Poole, who was 10th.

There was a field of around 30 runners competing in wet, muddy conditions.

In the U-15 race, Isobel Moss showed her improved form and confidence by coming 15th.

Experienced U15 players wanted for this season.

Hawks boss close to swoop for ex-Arsenal player

ANTHONY Anstead could sign two strikers, including one ex-Arsenal player in time for the Hawks home league clash against Leyton this Saturday.

The Harlow Town boss is set to make a decision on the pair today (Thursday). They were due to play for the Hawks reserves at Cheshunt in the Capital League last night.

One player is at a Ryman League club, while the other is a vastly experienced forward who used to be on the books at Highbury.

Harlow picked up a second consecutive

Redbridge 2, Harlow Tn 3 (aet)
Championship Manager (Isthmian) League Cup, second round win when they won 3-2 after extra time at Redbridge in the second round of the Isthmian League Cup on Tuesday.

At one stage the Hawks were 2-0 after Oliver Cleaver struck twice, before Redbridge fought back to level.

It needed an excellent 107th minute 20-yard free-kick from Michael Pelley to secure the victory.

The Hawks' reward is a third-round tie at Ryman premier side AFC Hornchurch in December but Anstead is not getting carried away.

"I would swap the wins for two in the league. We were 2-0 up and comfortable and it shows what happens when we switch off. I thought it was going to be like the league game against them [Harlow were 2-0 up before drawing 3-3]," said Anstead.

"However, we have come through well and the players have come in and taken their opportunities."

A scrappy first half saw Harlow take the lead on 37 minutes when former Luton Town player Oliver Cleaver fired home an unstoppable 25-yard shot after a good lay-off from Julian Edwards.

Harlow doubled their lead on 74 minutes. A good three-man move ended with Edwards passing across the six-yard box for Cleaver to tap in at the far post.

Redbridge substitute Bradley Ross fired past Hawks keeper Ashley Harris on 78 minutes and a minute later the same player was given too much space on the right and rifled in from 10 yards out.

Any thought of penalties was swept aside when Pelley struck in extra time.

HARLOW TN: Harris, Clemo, Adegbite (Christian 90), Pelley, Thomas, Tambeson, Doolan, Cleaver, Taylor (Abraham 71), Edwards (Taylor-Forbes 86), Simpson. Subs not used: Lambert, Waite (gk).

Harron blow as Rams are marooned by Islanders

Mersea Island 10, Harlow 0
RFU London & South East, division two north east

THE Rams were left marooned as basement side Mersea Island pulled off a shock win on Saturday.

Harlow director of rugby Lee Harron, pictured right, went off with a cracked rib on 43 minutes and could now be out for two weeks.

Line-out expert Darren Hawkins then went off with an ankle injury on 55 minutes. He could be out until next month.

Mersea had not won a league game this season but the hosts adapted better to the gale-force winds and intermittent rain which made passing a lottery.

The hosts were also favoured with the heavier pack.

The result left the Rams awkwardly placed in eighth spot.

Their next three games are against top half of the table teams, starting with a tricky home match against second-placed Braintree in nine days' time.

Tough ones follow at Sudbury (5th place) on December 5 and at home to leaders Thurrock on December 12.

Mersea went ahead in the first five minutes. Scrum-half Jon Williams slipped two tackles and cut in close to the posts for a try before he slotted over a difficult conversion.

With the wind in their favour, the home side had most of the territory and Harlow were forced to defend against a non-stop series of drives by the Mersea forwards.

On 35 minutes, the Rams conceded a penalty 30 yards out and Williams kicked this for a 10-0 lead.

Harlow exerted strong pressure but a handling error spoiled a chance of a score.

Harlow had one useful tactic of using line-out ball to set up rolling mauls in the first half, but the effectiveness of this was reduced when Hawkins went off.

In a scoreless second half, Harlow's one good opportunity came and went early in the second half.

Kain Claridge broke 50 yards with ball in hand but he was stopped eight yards short of the home line and Harlow's supporting runners were unable to finish off the move.

The home side then shut up shop and held out for their first win of the season.

Harron said: "They were better than a side that had lost all their games and they will win a few games this season but we let ourselves down."

"They adapted to the conditions better. You could only pass the ball a few yards. On a dry day we could have run in five or six tries."

He added: "It was a case of us losing two points and the sides around us [gaining] two points."

HARLOW: Brown, Mackie, Vanbeck, Hockley, Grimley, Dobson, Harron (Woodington 43), Williams, Romaine, Prindville, Hawkins (Clark 55), Eynon, Roberts, M. Bowering, Claridge. Sub not used: Cunninghamham.
